Excerpt from Ireland for the Irish: A Practical, Peaceable, and Just Solution of the Irish Land Question; Dedicated to Lord Viscount Stanley Our agricultural products are diminishing; our population, instead of becoming more numerous, wealthy, and happy, is decreasing with fearful rapidity, and is a prey to poverty and discontent; railways and steamboats have furnished facilities for the Irish to quit their native land; literature has but served to make them more fully sensible of their and lot, and more disgusted with some of the laws under which they live. Thus Ireland presents the extraordinary fact of a people not progressing, although they have most powerful means for advancement at their disposal.
