Createspace, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 254 x 203 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .FFA Leaders and FFA Job Interview competitors, this is the ultimate resource for writing resumes. YRACC(c) For Young Adults is focused on teaching high school students and early college undergrads the art of resume writing. It is clearly not just another resume book. This text is an actual instructional study course developed from the author s three-hour group workshop presentation and more than 20 years of experience writing resumes and teaching resume writing - an in-depth teaching tool that you will not commonly find in most available resume writing books. 21st Century high school students graduate from school with a portfolio that virtually always includes a resume and letters of recommendation. It is disturbing how many of those resumes could be described as pitiful! Resume writing for high school-aged students presents special challenges that most resume writing books on the market today do not address. YRACC(c) is the classroom instructor or home-school parent s best resource for truly teaching the skill of resume writing. The short course includes the all-important component of pre-resume skills assessment, including worksheets. Once skills are assessed and information is gathered, the course enters the next step: the art of resume writing. Each section has an end-of-section worksheet asking questions to cement the knowledge gained in that section. The final section covers FFA CDE Interview Competition Preparation. An accompanying Teacher s Edition will soon be available from The WORD Company USA. The Teacher s Edition includes relevant EALRs, GLEs and lesson plans. Complete unit takes approximately 5-8 classroom hours. Make sure you purchase the Teacher s Edition with the green cover graphic. The blue one goes with a different textbook.
