Excerpt from Historical Address at the Wyoming Monument, 3d of July, 1878, on the 100th Anniversary of the Battle and Massacre of Wyoming They brought the gospel and the gospel minister with them and provided liberally for their support. They established schools and made ample provisions for education throughout the settlement, laying broad and deep the foundations for a religious, intellectual and moral community. Such were the sources whence came the people whose story we are telling, such the people themselves. The labors, the suffer ings, the dangers and deaths they endured in preparing the ground and sowing the seeds of future prosperity and greatness for their descendants accomplished their work, and have given, not alone to their descendants, but to hun dreds of thousands from all parts of the civilized world, abundant cause for gratitude and joy. The soil they hal lowed with their blood yields to us a bountiful supply of all that can gladden the heart and make life happy. With these introductory remarks I will at once enter upon the history of the events of the day we have...
