Xlibris Corporation. Paperback. Condition: New. 288 pages. Dimensions: 8.9in. x 6.0in. x 0.9in. Hank slowly began to inch his way toward the first swinging chair. It was only fifty feet, but in the wind and snow, it took twenty minutes to reach the first chair. The two men in their twenties were crouched forward shielding their exposed faces from the wind. It had been more than an hour since the chair came to a halt. Hi, Im Hank. Its a little windy, well get you down. Little windy, I have only been in a blizzard once before, this one looks bad. Its the second blizzard weve had since last Friday. Must be global warming. Yeah, they say the weather gets colder because of the ocean currents changing with all the icebergs breaking off. Thats what they say. Put these harnesses on and fasten them securely. Have you done this before, the younger man asked. Yeah, once on a clear day last summer in training. Snow and wind make it a little dicey. When you are secure, I am going to tie off a heavy rope. One at a time, you will be lowered to the ground. Youre lucky; its only about a twenty-five foot drop from where you are. The other two chairs are higher off the ground. Keep the tips of your skis pointed up as you descend. I need you to drop your poles first. Whats your name, Hank yelled over the sound of the wind. Im Frank and this is my brother Nick. Are you good skiers? Yeah. Good, if you think you can ski down the mountain once you are lowered, just head to the lodge, youve been swinging up here for an hour, the cold will get to you and youll develop hypothermia. If youre not up...
