Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from University of North Carolina Record, Vol. 251: Announcements of the Division of Languages and Literatures; February 1928 The first formal action was taken toward the establishment of graduate study in 1881. President Battle's report in that year called attention to the fact that the University was maintaining special schools of law, medicine, and pharmacy, and that the academic faculty would furnish postgraduate instruction leading to the degrees of master of arts and doctor of philosophy. These degrees would not be conferred except upon rigid examination on prescribed courses. The first degrees of master of arts and doctor of philosophy in course were granted in 1883. In 1885 the first Graduate Bulletin was issued, a circular stating the requirements for advanced degrees in constitutional law, political economy, classical languages and literature, English language and literature, French, German, mathematics, chemistry, natural philosophy, and geology, botany, and zoology. At about the same time (1883) the impulse to further research at the University gained new strength through the establishment of the Elisha Mitchell Scientific Society. For the first three years the society published annual volumes of proceedings; afterwards the Journal became a quarterly. From the first the society has stressed original research on the part of its professors and advanced students and has been an immense aid to higher scientific work at the University. The Philological Club established an annual record of research, called Studies in Philology, in 1906. The James Sprunt Historical Monographs, founded in 1899, gave opportunity for the publication of the results of advanced research in history, particularly in the history of North Carolina. About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books....
