The Indelible Red Stain: The Destruction of a Tropical Paradise: A Cold War Story

By Dr Mohan Ragbeer

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2011. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 254 x 178 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .In 1950 Dr Cheddi Jagan began a movement to transform British Guiana into a Marxist state in South America and soon allied with the USSR in the Cold War then gaining steam. The failure of that dream and the flight of over 400,000 people to North America and Britain are almost forgotten tragedies even among the Diaspora. The Indelible Red Stain - this massive two-volume blockbuster--by Guyanese doctor and political insider Dr Mohan Ragbeer revives the story. His masterful opus will probably become the keystone to understanding the destruction of British Guiana, its bloody race war, and the massive exodus. Dr Mohan Ragbeer writes brilliantly in a style seldom seen from the Caribbean, with encyclopaedic knowledge of history, culture, medicine, forestry, sociology and more, coupled with an elephantine memory of events and discussions of the fifties and sixties. The background is a dangerous river trip in 1961 into remote forests by a multiracial forensic team to investigate a murder. The tales of witnesses to political events contribute to the grim story of the usurpation of...
