Excerpt from Duty on Coal: Being a Few Facts Connected With the Coal Question, Which Will Furnish Matter for Thought to the Friends of American Industry If this be true in regard to the strength of Britain - and who can doubt it - how much more so is the same doctrine true when applied to our own country? While England possesses only 8500 uare miles of coal-bearing country, an all-wise Creator has foreshadowed t e future greatness of the United States by bestowing upon us a coal-bearing area which extends over square miles of territory. With this fact brought prominently before us, is it right or proper that we should, so to speak, y in the face of Providence, refuse this His bounteous gift, and coolly turn our backs upon our own resources, and trust for our supplies to the questionable friendship of a foreign nation? Such a course would, we think, be unworthy of a people boasting such intelligence as we do, and could only be defended by a shallow sophistry, such as is the staple of our British Free Trade - Revenue Reformers.
