Books LLC, Reference Series. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 80 pages. LC Number: KF25 . E2 2009n OCLC Number: (OCoLC)613333786 Subject: Predatory lending -- United States. Excerpt: . . . ed to do. He faces a very troubled world, unlike when he was a commander in Germany in the cold war. We understood the threat situation. We understood the composition of the forces that faced NATO and other forces. But today, with weapons of mass destruction, the proliferation of weapons throughout the world, a far more complex threat situation faces this Nation. The subject of homeland defense is now very much a part of the responsibilities of the extraordinary team of national security that President-elect Bush has put together. Just think. Not since the days of World War II, when America experienced blackouts and when there was uncertainty of the enemy submarines off our shores, did we recognize that once again America is imperiled by the weapons of mass destruction, be it missile defense or chemical or biological. So, again, when and when not to use force. As I say, Iraq--at that time we had a coalition of dozens of nations that fought that war and brought it to a successful conclusion. Today, America, together with Great Britain, stands alone in that theater containing Saddam Hussein. Several allies in the gulf operations assist using naval vessels, but basically we are alone. On the front burner of his desk and that of the President and the Defense team, he is trying to rebuild a coalition, together with the United Nations and the Security Council, to address that ever-serious problem of Iraq. Bosnia. Our troops are still there. We will address the balanced role of peacekeeping and our responsibility, but that policy that we adopt in...
