How many times have we heard teachers consign the Son of God s Great Sermon to adjunct status, that is, to mere secondary righteousness, mere incidental ethics, now exceeded by the grace that is by faith in His death and resurrection? On the contrary, however, by Christ s own words what He proclaims from the Mount exceeds the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees. It also exceeds the righteousness (grace) of present day scribes and Pharisees. Except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter the kingdom of God. But because Christ left behind glorious teachings that must be lovingly incarnated in our lives, we may not just believe that Jesus died for me. His teachings are the necessary conditions, the required prerequisites, of salvation, for Jesus Christ will not go where His teachings are ignored. This book takes up a loving restoration of the Sermon on the Mount to its central position in the salvation of the human soul. Author Bio: Charles W.
