Chester D. Gibbs, of Spokane, president of the Stack-Gibbs Lumber Co. of Idaho, took out a 300, 000 life insurance policy with the Mutual Life of New York this week. it is said to be the largest policy issued in the Pacific Northwest. Mr. Gibbs expresses faith in the future business conditions in Spokane, saying: Things look good to me and the future exceptionally bright. This year's lumber business has been good, and taking in consideration the better prices prevailing, may be a little ahead of last years. The coming year in the lumber business promises to be good and ahead of that of the past two years. The lumber trade is an excellent industry for a community, because 75 percent of the proceeds from white pine is spent in labor and with yellow pine, fir, etc., even a larger percentage. Spokane lumbermen are lined up in opposition to the increased duty on lumber proposed to be levied by the Mexican government, and which it is believed would exclude American lumber from the ports of that country. At the instance of I. P. McGoldrick, head of the McGoldrick Lumber Co. of Spokane, the Spokane Chamber of Commerce at its meeting this week adopted the following resolution: hereas, it has been called...
