ASIAN CARP INVASION JAPAN S NUCLEAR SPILL: RING OF FIRE

Createspace, United States, 2011. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 198 x 129 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .On March 11, An earthquake off the coast of Japan registering 8.9 on the Richter scale hit Japan causing a devastating tsunami with waves up to 20 feet high. The dreadful tsunami damaged a nuclear power plant in Japan. Misguidedly, the company that operated the damaged Dukushmia Bai-ichi nuclear plant decided to release more than 3 million gallons of poisoned contaminated radioactive water (which was used to cool the fuel rods) into the ocean. The toxic contaminated radioactive water released was about 100 times more radioactive than legal limits. The radioactive water subsequently contaminated ten of the world s seas and oceans. It poisoned the Pacific Ocean, Atlantic Ocean, Indian Ocean, etc. As a result, the plague killed all zooplankton, phytoplankton, cephalopods, invertebrate, and crustaceans, etc. With their food source gone, bloated decaying carcasses of marine lives washed ashore by the millions. To make matters even worse, vegetation across the globe was destroyed when toxic radioactive contaminated water was evaporated up into the clouds; then rained down onto the earth and destroyed all the newly planted seedlings. The devastation started around the perimeter and worked its way inward of every country, Island, and continent causing them to become barren and desolate. With crops destroyed, farmers couldn t feed their livestock. Without live stock, people had no food and no medicine. Even prisoners were released around the world because there was no food to feed them. At the onset, two billion, 325 million people, perished. Initially, the plague claimed the people most dependent upon prescription drugs because pharmaceutical companies shut down. The first group was the diabetics; people that were dependent on insulin. Next, were people on oxygen, as...
