Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.On any given Sunday night, the news channels report on final scores of sports events. However, due to the shortage of time allowed, they can't give a full account of the games, or the players on the field. This book in contrast to the thirty second review of an event, offers the reader an in depth insight to the game, and the men that put their lives on the line to play it. Politics and War are strange bed fellows. The Department Of Defense, for many different reasons elected to contract out certain job duties that are essential in support of military operations. Movement of supplies and equipment is a major priority in a war, and in this war seventy percent of the injuries or fatalities come from roadside bombs called, I.E.D. s. Maybe, one might consider the collateral damage of such catastrophic injuries resulting from I.E.D. activity in Iraq. Civilian injuries or deaths are not included in the body count of military statistics, or negative political fall out. So to reduce these negative statistics, why not contract this job to civilian...
