

Redemptive Memory Collected Poems of Harold Kaplan

By Harold Kaplan

Xlibris. Paperback. Condition: New. 146 pages. Dimensions: 8.4in. x 5.8in. x 0.7in. Redemptive Memory reveals the pattern of a life lived passionately and examined deeply. Its themes are love, that draws the poet to the world; anger, that rages against disappointment; and song, that joins feeling and thought in the redemptive promise of form. These poems arise from experience and evoke unnamed others through many modes of address: interrogative, imperative, suppliant. Yet in their use of allegory and parable, and their generalizing thrust, they reach beyond the individual life, discovering laws of conscience and commitment that might guide another life. The body's joys and losses, the ego's rage against betrayal and death, languages acrobatic enchantments, the sand and water of the mutable world we act in—all find their enduring music here. The poems have the majesty of Yeats, the intellectual ambition of Eliot, the humanity of Stevens, pressing back against the pressure of reality. The phrasing in these poems displays an intelligence that reveres mystery: all my solaces turn ashes in your seeking; the snowman kneels into sleep; the heel of space stamping the changes of what I feel. The compelling rhymes shape an ethical awareness: sober judges on the stormy...
