Mark the point to which it goes. Now, if you hang a weight on the tip, the tip will bend down a little further. If you put double the weight the tip will go down double the distance, and so on until the fishing rod is considerably bent, so that its form is altered and a new law of flexure comes into play. Suppose I use a wnnrmwbiiiiiiijmTOinnjTOWinp spring as an ac-Fm gl celerating force. For example, suppose I suspend a heavy ball by a string and then attach a spiral spring to it and pull the spring aside. The ball will be drawn after the spring. If then I let the ball go, it will begin to move. The force of the spring will act upon it as an accelerating force, and the ball will go on moving quicker and quicker. But the acceleration will not be like that of gravity. There will be two differences. The pull of the spring will in no way depend on the mass of the ball, and the pull of the spring, instead of being constant, like the pull of gravity, will become weaker and weaker as the ball yields to it. Consequently the equations above given which determine the relations between this space passed through, the velocity, and the time which were determined in the case of gravity are no longer true, and a different set of...
