Outskirts Press, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .As man is, God once was; as God is, man may become. --Lorenzo Snow Christians: you mostly got it right. God was/is ever righteous from eternity to eternity. Mormons: we mostly got it wrong. That statement only applied in Eden prior to the Fall. As man chose, God for us weeps; as God is, man may still choose to become. (Sorry, not as pithy as Elder Snow s couplet but accurate and scripturally supported) Humans are not inherently evil; nor is the Fall of Adam good. But both our first parents were given the same test of moral agency that we now face. For Mormons it s frankly embarrassing to realize that the LDS temple is at once the sacred House of The Lord while also serving as the secret host of Lucifer and his greatest and oldest Lie. But that is no different than the first temple in Eden. And the test for us today is no different than the one our first parents faced. So let s deal with it and move on. It s only embarrassing as long as we realize that in the temple we are not only making sacred covenants with God, but--as long as we persist in the traditional practice of believing The Lie in preference to that which God commanded--we are also unwittingly making covenant with Lucifer: Its name--The Lie (as prophesied by Paul) Its sign--partaking of the forbidden fruit (or any other act of betraying God) Its token--the fig apron he commanded as a symbol of his ownership For Christians, this book is an enlightening bridge between the Fall in Eden and Jesus atoning work, accomplished through a surprising (especially for Mormons!) peek into changing LDS...
