Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from History of Rockville, From 1823 to 1871: Including Also a Brief Sketch of Facts Which Ante-Date the Incorporation of Vernon, and Bring Dates Up to the Time When This History Begins In presenting to the public the contributions that have appeared from time to time in the Tolland County Journal, entitled Reminiscences of Rockville, it seems proper to state that the embodied facts were more the result of the love of the writer for this rural retreat, as it was in 1823 and subsequent years, than the hope of pecuniary reward or literary fame. The first chapter was written in an idle hour, while the writer was meditating on the past and present condition of this once barren heath, and now the head center of business for Tolland County. The first number was passed through the Post Office, directed to The Journal, signed with the initial C. Contrary to expectation, inquiry was raised to find the author, and demand more of the same sort of Rockville history. The Editor of The Journal was consulted whether he would print more than the first number. The answer was, I will print all you ll write. Until I had written up to 1840 I had no expectation of having the articles printed in pamphlet form. From the absence of any record to assist, and often conflicting memories, - and from the death of nearly all who were familiar with the early history and settlement of Rockville, it is probable that events as narrated are somewhat imperfect. Each chapter was written for the last or finale; which, being the case, many repetitions occur in two or three chapters which...
