Excerpt from Illustrative Cases in Personality, Vol. 2: Sales The tobacco remained on the land and in the possession of the defendant until the 17th March, 1865, when it was swept away by a flood, and the real question in this cause was what is the true construction of this agreement, which, of course, was for the decision of the Court. The natural reading of this instrument would make the transaction a sale and delivery of the plaintiffs share of the tobacco to the defendant for a fixed price, to be increased, but not to be diminished, by the net proceeds of sale above that price, which could be fixed or made certain without difficulty. If this were a sale, then the defendant is liable to the plaintiff for the lost tobacco, and at the price Of 14 cents per pound, the flood having rendered impossible the performance of the latter part of the agreement, which, therefore, becomes simply a sale for a fixed price.
