Excerpt from Sixty-Second Annual Report of the Police Commissioner for the City of Boston for the Year Ending December 31, 1967 The year 1967 witnessed a continuing series of incidents amid a climate of social unrest in cities across our nation. Boston was not spared in this national trend of spiraling crime rates and civil disturbances. Cognizant of its obligation to our citizens against this escalating challenge of crime and disorder, the Boston Police Department stood firm of purpose in its determination to provide the community with the highest degree of security safety, and service. This report presents, in capsule form, some of the activities and accomplishments incidental to that effort.
