Zoetown Media. Paperback. Condition: New. 368 pages. Dimensions: 9.0in. x 6.0in. x 0.9in. At age six, Zo Rarefield lost her mother, Ruthie, in a car accident. Devan Jamming rescues the little girl and soon becomes her adopted step-brother. Undersized, non-speaking, mourning, Zo never forgets her mom. She has an epiphany when she hears a radio preachers rhapsody about The Rapture. She discovers the purpose of her life: to rise body and soul, fully alive, to join her mother in heaven. At age thirteen, Zo abandons her life in the Jamming home to wander the back country outside Spring Creek, South Dakota, near the Black Hills. She exhumes Ruthies skeleton and keeps one of her mothers ribs for good luck and reburies the skull under her favorite tree. Living by her wits, filching food and clothes, Zo survives a rape attempt by a fundamentalist Rapture preacher who pursues her throughout the story. Soon, she encounters the spirit of Kateri Teckawitha, the first Native American saint, who becomes her steward. Soon she meets Inkpududa, the spirit of a Lakota warrior. Inky encourages her to snare souls as they leave dying bodies until she gathers enough to carry her to heaven, like Santas reindeer....
